CERTIFIED REMODELERS GRADUATED BY NARI

ATLANTA, GA January 26, 2006 – The Atlanta Chapter of the National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI Atlanta) has graduated the following Certified Remodelers:

Dean Bires, Bires Remodeling

Cooper Jones, Sequoia Construction, Inc.

Mike O’Sullivan, Buckhead Renovations

Tim Reeves, Traba Construction, Inc

Simon Reynolds, Reynolds Renovations, Inc.

A Certified Remodeler has demonstrated that he has the composite knowledge necessary to be identified as a legitimate professional – a professional dedicated to raising the standards of the remodeling industry in order to better serve the remodeling customer. Look for the “CR” designation – it tells the consumer a great deal about the prospective contractor.

To earn the Certified Remodeler designation:

1. a candidate must have a minimum of seven continuous years in the business of remodeling
2. demonstrate proficiency and overall construction knowledge
3. be able to direct the performance of others in all phases of remodeling
4. subscribe to sound business practices and ethics in accordance with standards approved by the association
5. submit to a rigorous, comprehensive, day-long examination

“Consumers expect professionalism and deserve quality workmanship,” said Jesse Morado, Chairman of the Board of Directors of NARI Atlanta. “We believe NARI members are a cut above the rest and that we can provide a superior remodeling experience for customers. It helps us to demonstrate that we are willing to be tested and certified. There is nothing to fear about certification when you have the education, experience and ethics to back you up, and in lieu of any state requirements, NARI will continue to provide training and education for our member contractors.”
